Article I: Introduction

The Lebanese American University (LAU) Student Code of Conduct emanates from the institutional values, mission and vision of a university committed to student centeredness, the education of the whole person, the enhancement of student leadership, the promotion of the highest ethical and moral values and aspirations, the development of a deep sense of civic engagement and the advancement of peace, democracy, and social justice.

In the context of a university operating as an extended family community, the Student Code of Conduct regulates the pedagogical and behavioral relationship between administration, faculty, staff and students. This code describes the boundaries of acceptable student behavior and considers the individual student's welfare as inseparable from the welfare of the university community. While students have the privilege to enroll at the institution of their choice, choosing to enroll at LAU requires a student to become aware of, and to abide by the behavior standards of the University.

The University respects the dignity of all individuals and in return expects each individual to have that same respect for others within the University community, so that all may achieve their full potential. Membership in LAU community imparts to every student a set of rights and responsibilities that are essential to the University's educational mission. LAU students enjoy the rights to freedom of thought and expression; to freedom from discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, gender, age, disability, height, weight, or family status; to have access to and participate in the academic and non-academic opportunities offered by the University and the right to fair judicial process in the determination of accountability for conduct. In return, students are expected to exhibit a responsible behavior that complies with all provisions of the Student Code of Conduct and abstains from harming or threatening to harm any individual or group. The university may take appropriate action in situations involving misconduct or demonstrating flagrant disregard for any person or persons.

Disciplining university students is part of the learning process and as such, its focus shall be educational. This includes the possible use of suspension or expulsion and/or remedial means as disciplinary measures may prove invaluable tools in the education of the University community. Any query about the processes, rules, or policies, or any other concern not specifically covered by the Student Code of Conduct, shall be decided by the University Planning Council. Additionally, the Student Code of Conduct may be extended or amended to apply to new and unanticipated situations. Enrollment in the University does not protect students from their obligation to behave in a manner consistent with the laws of the Lebanese government.
